PENNSTATE HERSEY

College of Medicine

A continuing education service of
Penn State College of Medicine

Overview

This conference is designed to provide updated information about liver transplantation, including pre- and post-transplant considerations.

Audience

Gastroenterologists, hepatologists, physicians in the primary care setting with patients who have liver failure or are transplant recipients, nurses, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants may all benefit from attendance.

Credit

Penn State College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Penn State College of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 5.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

5.2 contact hours awarded.

Penn State Milton S. Hershey Medical Center, Nursing Education and Professional Development is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the PA State Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

Penn State has approved this program for 0.5 Continuing Education Units (CEUs).

It is our policy to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all of our sponsored educational programs. Faculty and course directors have disclosed relevant financial relationships with commercial companies, and Penn State has a process in place to resolve any conflict of interest. Complete faculty disclosure will be provided to program participants at the beginning of the activity.

Fee

The cost for this program is $35 per person. The fee includes the cost of instruction, lunch, and break refreshments.

You can pay for your registration by check, request to bill employer, or VISA, MasterCard, or American Express.

Registration

Register online, by fax, or by mail. Registrations will be confirmed by e-mail upon receipt of payment, authorization to bill, or a credit card guarantee. If you do not receive confirmation from Penn State within two weeks, phone Continuing Education at 717-531-6483 to confirm your registration. Walk-ins and late registrations can be accepted only if space is available.

Cancellation Policy

No refunds will be made for cancellations received after November 23, 2012. Substitutes are accepted at any time.

The University reserves the right to cancel or postpone any course because of insufficient enrollment or other unforeseen circumstances. If a program is canceled or postponed, the University will refund registration fees but is not responsible for any related costs, charges, or expenses. Preregistered participants will be notified if a program is filled or canceled.

Access

Penn State encourages persons with disabilities to participate in its programs and activities. If you anticipate needing any type of special accommodation or have questions about the physical access provided, please contact Continuing Education at least one week in advance of your participation or visit.
