What Magnet means to me...

agnet to me describes a selected group of nurses who are dedicated to the profession and each other with one goal in mind—providing the best possible care to each patient every time, every encounter. It is bridging the gap between experienced nurses and younger 'net generation nurses' and helping each other marry the time honored traditions of nursing with the newer advanced technology that will be driving the future of nursing careers."

