Overview

This presentation is designed to bring information learned at national meetings back to the central Pennsylvania area for physicians and other health-care professionals to use in their daily clinical practices. The specific topics in this program have been chosen to cover as much of the 2014 ASCO® program as possible.

Audience

Our course is designed to help Hematology/Oncology specialists increase their knowledge of the current research and treatment protocols in various cancers.

The primary target audience is:

- Physicians
- Physician assistants
- Pharmacists
- Nurse practitioners
- Nurses

This presentation is not endorsed by or affiliated with ASCO®.
