Presentation and Speaker Information:
› "History Lessons: A Double Entendre"

Roger E. Meyer, M.D.
Professor of Psychiatry, Penn State College of Medicine

Learning Objectives:
At the conclusion of the CME activity, the participant should be able to:
  • Recognize the paradigm shifts in psychiatry over the past half century-and, in comparison with paradigm shifts in other disciplines
  • Identify some examples of observations and perspectives from the past that were ignored in the paradigm shifts in psychiatry—even though these observations and perspectives were not found to be incorrect or invalid
  • Discuss a possible path forward that might enable the field to progress on firmer footing
